Handles the Club's budget for all events including the New York Trip, the Trading Simulation, and working with the Toronto Finance Convention.

VP Internal
Recruiting

VP Internal acts as the link between the club and its members. Primary responsibilities include keeping club members up to date with events, sending out the Weekly Newsletter and managing MIC's email account. VP Internal will also help organize the club's events, conferences and simulations.

VP External
Recruiting

Requirements: Students must be in their U2 or U3 year

The VP External's role is one that requires dedication and innovation. The key responsibilities of this role are: organizing the New York Investment Banking Trip, the guest speaker series (minimum 3 per semester), coordination with other schools for external events and the Trading Simulation. This gives the opportunity to the executive to be in constant contact with well-known professionals in the Finance industry. The student must act in a professional manner with said individuals. We are looking for a person that is dedicated, hard-working and well-organized to fill this position.

VP Sponsorship

Recruiting

The VP Sponsorship of the MIC is responsible for obtaining the necessary funding the club needs to finance its wide array of activities. The main assignment is to find corporate sponsors for the Annual McGill Trading Simulation. This entails preparing an attractive sponsorship package and building and maintaining relations with the corporate world on an ongoing basis. Given the current economic environment, a high degree of motivation and perseverance are necessary to obtain results. This central position is also very rewarding and a valuable asset to have for successful job searches.

VP Simulation

Recruiting

Requirements: Student must be in their U2 or U3 year

As VP Simulation, you will be responsible for organizing the 5th Annual McGill Trading Simulation in the Winter semester. The Trading Simulation is one of the Club's larger events and as such requires many hours of preparation in advance of the event. As VP Simulation you will be in charge of organizing all activities pertaining to event including, booking venues, renting equipment, marketing, sponsorship, coordination with McGill IT Services etc. Potential applicants must be able to delegate tasks efficiently and effectively communicate needs to fellow team members. Strong organization skills are a must.

Simulation Committee x 2

Recruiting

As a Simulation Committee Member, your duty is to strive to make the 2010 edition of the McGill Trading Simulation the best one yet! The majority of tasks occur during the Winter Semester, where you will work with caterers on and off campus to ensure that all participants and volunteers were well fed. In addition, you liaison with the hotel so that participants from other universities across Canada have a comfortable stay here in Montreal. It is a huge team effort.

As part of the Simulation Committee, you will always have the opportunity to work on different facets of the Club throughout the year. During the winter semester, when the McGill Trading Simulation takes place, you will be in charge of several tasks related to the event such as recruiting the volunteers, contacting various suppliers to purchase the necessary items, assisting the VP Simulation, as well as overseeing other details of the event. The position involves constant teamwork and dedication towards the tasks at hand in order to achieve MIC's objectives. As part of the team, you will also have the chance to learn more about the Finance industry and meet with people who share a keen interest in this industry.
